LOCAL NOTICE TO MARINERS,

SHANGHAI DISTRICT

Wusung Bar Dredging Operations. TOTICE is bereby given that on and after the 19th instant, whenever the dredger Anding is at work, or in a position for working on the Bar, symbols will be hoisted at her masthead to indicate her position relatively to the line of Bar Marks, as follows :-

ONE DIAMOND; to show that she is on the line of Bar Marks. ONE BALL; to show that she is in a position to the North of the line of Bar Marks. Two Balls; to show that she is in a position to the South of the line of Bar Marks. The Anding will as a rule be moored wit four, or possibly more, anchors, the positions o which will generally be marked by wooden spar buoys painted red. The buoys will be attached to the anchors by the shortest lengths of chain which it may be found practicable to use; as, however, they are liable to be carried away, or to be swept under by the current, absolute, reliance cannot be placed on their being always

It is further notified that the depth signalled from Harbour Master's Wusung Station is the depth in the Channel in the line of the Bar Marks; allowance is not made for the height of the muchroom anchors above the level of the bed; this may be taken to be about three feet. Night signals to indicate the depth will not be shown when the Dredger is on the Bar. It is however intended to remove her during the strong Spring tides in the summer mouths. Attention is again drawn to the necessity that all steamers should go dead slow when passing the Dredger, whether she is actually at work or not; and all responsibility for damage or less resulting from an infringement of this rule will rest with the offending vessel. E V. BRENAN. Acting Harbour Master.

In his inaugural address as President of the Hongkong Medical Society Dr. MANSON referred to "the absence of anything like organized medical attendance for the very large class of poor Europeans and Eurasians " in the colony. There are, he says, a great many matters affecting the local interests of the profession which require attention, Rules of H.B.M. Supreme and other Courts and this he instances as one of them. Common charity compels a doctor to visit sick person when summoned, but it is not unnatural that the members of the profession should feel it somewhat of a hardship that they should have to spend their time and energies in what Dr. Manson terms "a manifestly public work-work which in out of the public purse and entrusted to particular men." For the pauper class Dr. Manson would apparently have some system of public medical relief established. No one has better opportunities than a medieal man of judging of the necessities of the poor, and so careful a man as Dr. MANSON would not make the suggestion unless there were strong facts to warrant it. At the some surprise that we learn of the existence of any considerable pauper element amongst the European and Eurosian communities. A considerable amount of non-affluence, not of up and acted on. "I do not see," he says, "why the poorer classes-not the pauper of weekly or monthly payments a fund from which the cost of medical attendance on their oiets might do something towards getting do something in bringing the cause of the opium ports against us. Complications would pauper class before Government." The fees What are the opium parts referred to P MELEOURNE ... Messrs. ing to a sick club in which the payment of a few pence a week will secure efficient medical attendance for themselves and their families. If the Hongkong Medical Society could do something towards getting up such an organisation in Hongkong it would confer a boon on the public and would relieve its own members of a good deal of unremunerative and unpleasant work. There would then be their fees in any case where they remained unpaid, the forbearance to do which is, according to Dr. Manson, sadly abused in Hongkong. For the very poorest class, who could not afford to pay even a moderate subscription to a sick club, a free dispensary ought to be opened, either by the Government in connection with the Civil Hespital or by Penang with the steamer Medan in tow. The public subscription.

frequently reach their destination mangled or incomplete, either through the incapacity of the agents to interpret the code or the renough, but it is far worse when a news agency, whose telegrams are flashed-all over the civilised world, takes news on trust from second-hand sources, and becomes the medium of disseminating false intelligence broadcast. This is Router's latest schieve ment. In the Ceylon and Rangoon papers we find the following among Rentor's telegrams :--

LONDON, 5th June.

The terrific hurricane at Hongkong, with heavy loss of life and property, turns out to be untrue. The canard originated in the American press. But unfortuately the mischief was done in great measure. The telegram presumably appeared in all the home papers, and doubt- which virtually involved a double punishmen less caused a great deal of auxiety in the minds of those baying relatives or business connections in this Colony. Reuter was not Minister of Marine received official notice to-day justified in taking such an item of news from an American source. He has an agent in Board have taken this action after a careful rethis Colony whose duty we presume it would view of the evidence. be to immediately telegraph home tidings of any great disaster involving serious loss of life. In the present instance, it is unfortunate the agent did not wire a short announcement of the great rainstorms of the 29th-30th ultimo, which no doubt gave birth to the extraordinary story of the "terrific burricane." In the absence of any intelligence from his own agent Reuter should exercise the virtue of silence. No news is decidedly better than false or even exaggerated intelligence, and with the long experience enjoyed by Reuter's Agency there is absolutely no excuse for the circulation of canards such as the above. Before taking any news enough that it is his duty to test its authorticity, and this could easily have been done on this occasion by wiring to his agent in

The Paris correspondent of the London Globe says that after Tunis come Tonquin and Annami. The building of the former is of an originality beyond conception. The whole construction is paint. ed in blue and red with gilt ornamentation. The Annamite pavilion is equally singular. It is formed of two large balls connected by covered galleries. It has a courtrard with fountain and temple enshrining Buddha. But neither of these dwellings is yet completed. Of a more consequential appearance is the Cochin-China structure, it is an exact reproduction of a palace at Saigon, but this is also in an unfinished state. Within a few yards stands a colossal pagoda from Cambodia, all red and gold. Strange to sav. it is in the from of with a central column tapering to the skies and surmounted with a gilt idol. Saints, heroand sphinzes figure in all the niches, while over the entrance are frescoss of scenes from the bistory of paganism. But it looks very trumpery and, as a French lady by my side remarked, it s more like a piece monteé of pastry than a sacred temple. There are a number of native troops, including soldiers from Tononin and Annam. The Tonquin and Annam troops are anything but imposing, and one wonders while gazing at them how they could have given the French so much trouble. They are mere boys in build-in fact, they might be taken for girls, and wear their hair en chignon in such a British evacuation of Egypt. For years past it has been considered unsafe for solitary persons to travel over the hills she frequented; and the neighbouring hillmen invariably went about in large parties, and never except in broad day-light. Such was the terror this brute had inspired far and wide. With the incentive of a Government reward of R500, several attempts had been made from time to time to destroy the uncanny brood, and rid an otherwise charming country of her pestilential presence. But though one or two tigers have been shot in the district. the real man-cuter and arch-field herself was never met with and she carried on manslaughtering propensities with impunity till a few days ago. 🐐 🔭 🤎 It was this tigress that Mr. Ormaston-not as the Pioneer lately had it, Osmaston—a young Forming the corps into square, he thus addressed the men:—" Me sinses have not decaived ma, after all, and it is really the diginirate ould Swillyboyno Rangers I have jusht inspicted. By Jupiter, 'two wance or twice, in shair constirnation, I asked mesilf, 'Is it dramin', or woide awake, or naither ye are? By thunder, for all the world ye look loike soldiers that had been hauled out ov the lumber room ov a waxwork show, an' no through taken in dhustin' ye naither. Be jabers, I'll dhroive the rusht out or ye, although the operation takes me till the ind of toime!" I'll dhrill ye, the blackguards that ye are, until yer logs are worn down to stumps! I'm dishgushted wid ye, ashamed ov, ye, the unwashed, unpoincelayed, unbrushed. unpolished, un-set-up, undisciplined Swillyboyne Rangers!"

growths of Havanna.

By one of those unexpected turns of fortune which occur in Australia as often as anywhere, a man who but half a dozen years ago was a hod-carrier has become comparatively wealthy, This change of financial circumstances has had No less an authority than Sir William Gull the usual effect on the ex-hod-carrier's wife, who also, notwithstanding an atter inability to read effected a fine literary taste, which she ostentatious y announces whenever possible. Calling upon a lady whom she had been trying to make herself acquainted with, she picked up a book from the table, and innocent of any knowledge that it was a copy of the Bible, asked the lean of it for a little time, as "she had not the book in her library." The lady, readily consented. After keeping it about a fortnight her visitor return- Bration self down to business and insists on extracting of the volume with procuse tonness, 17 per cent of "sweetnin'" out of the "sile."— you like it!" was asked. "Very well indeed; but I know how it would turn out before I was ed the volume with profuse thanks, "How did half through. They got married after all."
